

Hot bodies emit Radiation. Radiation between 380 and 780 nanometers from the visible part of the electromagnetic spectrum, and is therefore referred to as Light.

The eye interprets the different wavelength within this range as Color, in other word, Color is the way we distinguish different wavelength of light

Additive and subtractive color combinations